MICHELLE DESCHAMPS · AILATINA

Purposeful AI. Strategy you can put into practice.

AiLatina helps service teams organize commercial follow-up and adopt AI with human judgment.

I’m Michelle R. Deschamps, founder of AiLatina. Hospitality taught me to listen for what a guest needed. In sales I saw promising conversations get lost when nobody owned the next step. Today I design software and teach teams how to solve that problem in English and Spanish.

WHERE TO BEGIN

Lead Follow-up Audit

US$497 · one-time payment before work starts. One business, one follow-up process and one language, English or Spanish.

What we review

Up to 20 de-identified sales inquiries from the last 30 days. We work with you in a 60-minute diagnostic and a 30-minute handoff, scheduled subject to availability.

What you receive

A map of the current and proposed process, up to three gaps backed by evidence, three reusable messages, a procedure with a named owner and a 30-day action plan.

When you receive it

A written report within 48 business hours after the diagnostic and receipt of complete evidence. Includes one consolidated round of corrections within five business days and an asynchronous day-seven review of up to 15 minutes.

Implementation and software licenses are priced separately. The audit page sets out the scope, credit toward eligible services and cancellation terms.

METHODOLOGY AND CONTACT

How we work

The Future Proof Method

Michelle Deschamps created the method and the book of the same name. At AiLatina, we use it to define who owns a process, what AI can do and when a person takes over.

Lessons from BMS

Our diagnostic, offer design and delivery process incorporates learning from BMS by Vilma Núñez and Grupo Convierte Más. To present Michelle’s background, work and offers in the portfolio, we adapted the personal-brand asset exercises taught by Maru Matos within BMS on Journi.

For your team or event

In a live workshop we use a real workflow to create a map, name an owner and set a test criterion. For a corporate or hotel event, we use your brief to design the guest journey, the atmosphere and the music.
